⚠️ **Important Notes on "Oír"**:

◆ **Highly Irregular Orthography (Accent Marks & Spelling)**:

*Oír* requires careful attention to accent marks and spelling changes to preserve pronunciation:

| Tense | Forms | Reason |

|-----|-----|-----|

| **Present** | o**í**mos, o**í**s | Accent breaks diphthong (stress on i) |

| **Present 3rd Person** | o**ye***, o**yen** | i→y to avoid triple vowel (o-i-en) |

| **Preterite Yo/Tú** | o**í***, o**í**ste | Accent on stressed i |

| **Preterite 3rd Person** | o**yó***, o**yeron** | i→y to avoid triple vowel (o-i-ó) |

| **Gerund** | o**yendo** | i→y to avoid triple vowel (o-i-endo) |

| **Past Participle** | o**í**do | Accent on stressed i |

! **Critical Note**: The verb is formally written *oír* (with accent) because the stress falls on the 'i', though you may see it written *oir* informally.

◆ **Irregular Present Yo**:

Like **tener** (tengo) and **venir** (vengo), **oír** adds a 'g' in the first person:

- **Yo *oigo**.** (NOT ~oyo~)

◆ **Present Subjunctive** (based on **oigo**):

**que yo oiga, tú oigas, él oiga, nosotros oigamos, vosotros oigáis, ellos oigan**

 **Important Usage Note: "Oír" vs. "Escuchar"**:

| Verb | Meaning | Focus | Example |
|------|---------|-------|---------|
|------|---------|-------|---------|

|       |       |       |       |

|---------------------------------|-------------------------|------------------------------------------------|
| quien oye sus palabras | hearer of his/her words | Quien oye sus palabras, las entiende. |
|---------------------------------|-------------------------|------------------------------------------------|

💡 **Pro Tip****:

*Oír* is often used in the imperative (commands) with caution due to irregularity:

- *¡Oye!* (Listen! - Tú affirmative)
- *¡Oiga!* (Listen! - Usted affirmative)
- *¡No oigas!* (Don't listen! - Tú negative)
